

Expanding Interaction between you and your child

General Techniques

- * Always increase the interaction by only one new step to encourage a response and not frustrate the child
- * Choose a challenge that encourages the child to communicate with new gestures or ideas.
- * Make sure the pace of the new interaction gives the child opportunity to join the challenge.
- * Let the child expand the interaction and activity when possible. Be patient, and avoid filling in gaps or suggesting new directions.

